ISBN 978-5-94962-208-7

Издание является составной частью учебного пособия “Elementary VOCABULARY + Grammar”. Оно содержит ответы-ключи к учебным заданиям пособия, а также полные тексты раздела “Listening”, которые в основном учебнике можно прослушать только на диске.

Поскольку языковые задания иногда допускают более одного правильного ответа, в «ключах» к упражнениям даётся несколько вариантов.

A New Name

Herman doesn't like his first name. He has never liked it. He wants to change it. He asks his mother. She says it is too late to change his name. She says he can use his middle name. She will call him by his middle name. She asks him if that is okay. Herman says yes. "From now on," he says, "please call me by my middle name. From now on, please, call me Adam." His mother says that is no problem. "Goodbye, Herman," she says, "and hello, Adam." When Adam's father comes home from work, Adam's mom says, "Guess what? We have a new son."

LISTENING (p. 33)

My name is John. I'm 13 years old and I live with my family in Kaw City, northern Oklahoma. I go to the local school, play football with my friends. You could say I'm an ordinary American boy. Only I'm not really American. Or more American than other boys. I'm a native American, a Kaw. I belong to the Native American Tribe – the Kaw Nation. My grandfather is one of the first men in the tribe. Our native language is Sioux. We all speak English, but we speak Sioux at home. It's a tradition. We respect our traditions.
