The sign of Gemini

Element: Air

Quality: Mutable

Simbol: The Twins

Planet: Mercury

Gemini is the third sign of the zodiac. It is ruled by Mercury, the planet that represents communication, writing, and movement. The sign of Gemini belongs to the element of Air. The Mutable Air of Gemini is the agent of the exchange. That which has been concentrated must now be distributed. This air is alive, without which reproduction could not occur. The air is full of activity. Pollen blows in the warm air, insects buzz and butterflies flit. The task of Gemini of weaving an information network for the cross fertilization that is essential if life is to reproduce itself. Before our eyes the marriage of heaven and earth is happening. The solstice approaches. During these long days, the Sun is at its highest in the sky.

Professions of Gemini are writers, journalists, teachers, secretaries, commercial agents and sales representatives. They might also work in the communications industry. Their work are usually connected with intellectual activity, in which their mental skills can be exercised.

The myth of Gemini

Often the constellation Gemini depicts in the form of the spirit of the brothers, the two Dioscuri or heavenly twins. They are children of the same mother Leda, but different fathers: the mortal Tindareus and the immortal Zeus. According to legend, Leda was wife Tindareus, the king of Sparta, but Zeus who seduced Leda in the guise of a swan. So Castor was the mortal son of Tindareus, and Pollux the divine son of Zeus. When one of the brothers, Castor, was killed, then the second persuaded Zeus to allow him to share with his brother immortality, because Pollux very fond of his brother and did not imagine his life without him. As a result, they have become inseparable and spend alternate days on Olympus as gods, and in Hades, the realm of the dead, as deceased mortals. That's why Gemini are so different and often surprise others with their impermanence.

The symbol

The image of two columns in the sign of Gemini denotes the gate of knowledge. Nature seeks to build bridges between the lower forces of the physical world and the higher, spiritual, celestial forces. This sign also embodying the essential split between the intellect and the emotins. It is depicted as two antennas directed in opposite directions. Gemini is also a sign of the union of two opposing principles – the female negative energy of yin and the male positive energy yang. The Gemini sign is a mix of these two energies. In fact, the symbol of Gemini is the Twins. They can see both sides of the problem easily.

Gemini: «I am learning!»

The beginning of summer is the time of Gemini. This sign protects Mercury, which is located closest to the Sun. It gives people who are born under this sign constant movement. They do not miss the chance to experience something interesting. They always have a lot of ideas and plans. They are like a breath of wind: fickle, light and airy. They are often portrayed as spirit brothers. According to legend, they are children of the same mother but have different fathers. When one of the brothers, whose father was a mere mortal, was killed, the second persuaded Zeus to allow him to share with his brother immortality. Since then they have become inseparable and spend half their lives in the sky, and the other part under the ground. That is why they are so different and are often surprisingly capricious. Born under the sign of Gemini, many people study hard. Geminians prefer this kind of work, which is associated with continuous change in experience and activity. They always strive to achieve something – fame, wealth, love and something else which is clearly unattainable. In essence, Gemini is a cool sign: people of this sign are always trying to analyze the thoughts, words, actions and reactions of other people. Geminians turn their ability to benefit and promote the means to achieve their goals. They are capable of becoming multilingual. Their favorite language is typically French.

They are often diffident, but they can also easily adapt to the circumstances. Their reactions are mood dependent and they are often nervous and irritable.

They have a lot of interests. They constantly need to do something new to satisfy their curiosity. They cannot independently carry out their ideas. They tend to engage consistently and thoroughly with their interests. They often talk about abstract things, but in practical terms they are sometimes helpless.

In communicating they are talkative. They are hilarious, witty, sociable, have developed intelligence, and are excellent companions.

They enjoy travel, and meeting new people in different cultures.

Their love relationships are often temporary, with logic prevailing over feelings. They are rarely affectionate, and are often jealous. They have an innate tendency to analyze, and seldom show emotion.

Gemini – Man

Such men feel themselves in any company perfectly. They can freely support the conversation on the right topic. They are diplomats. But do not try to keep them. It's useless. Better try to interest by using your intellectual skills.

John Kennedy was the most loving president in US history. Like all Gemini, he had a light, cheerful character. John was born on May 29, 1917 in Brooklyn, Massachusetts. In addition to him, there were eight other children in the family. His father was from Ireland. For a short time he managed to become one of the richest people in the country and give the children a wonderful education. John Kennedy, studying in college, managed to combine study with countless random novels, than he earned the glory of the playboy. As true Gemini, he confined himself to fleeting connections, trying not to enter into a serious relationship with anyone. At the age of 29 Kennedy becomes a member of the House of Representatives, and at 35 falls into the Senate. As a rule Gemini marry more than once. Their nature is too multifacete. But the later they marry, the more likely that their union will not fall apart. So it happened with Jacqueline Bouvier. The president met with her when he was over 40. Nevertheless the marriage did not prevent him from leading the old way of life. He was cheating on his wife constantly. Only shortly before his tragic death, the president realized finally that he was in vain looking for happiness on the side.
